

POLICY UPDATE

TPS FOR NEPAL, HONDURAS, AND NICARAGUA 8/21/2025

- On August 20, the Trump Administration ended Temporary Protected Status (TPS) for those from Nepal, Honduras, and Nicaragua.
 - TPS for Nepal was already set to expire in August. Nepalese individuals that had their TPS status taken away are now at risk of deportation.
 - Individuals with TPS from Honduras and Nicaragua will maintain status until the TPS expires on September 8, at that point they will lose status and be subject to detention and deportation.
 - MIRA strongly recommends that anyone with TPS from these countries consult an attorney as soon as possible to determine if they have any pathways to relief.
